

OPIS Biodiesel & Biomass-Based Diesel Pump Decals

The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) has determined in its final regulations that pumps dispensing biodiesel or biomass-based diesel need to be labeled separately. The distinction between the two is being made to avoid confusion and possible misfueling. Failure to comply with this rule could result in civil penalties of up to $11,000/day plus any additional costs incurred by your customers due to the lack of proper labeling.
