Market Challenge

Professionals who buy and sell refined petroleum products need market-focused news on price fundamentals, infrastructure changes, refinery outages/maintenance, M&A and more. There are many sources of this intelligence – some that are very expensive and many that don't target the downstream market. It's easy to become overwhelmed by irrelevant information.

How We Help

At an affordable price, OPIS Intraday News Alerts spotlight the most significant market happenings. Be among the first to learn about refinery problems, pipeline outages, M&A deals or any other event affecting downstream fuel distribution.

Benefits

- Buy and sell fuel at the most advantageous time and price with regional market analysis
- Hedge price volatility more effectively with an understanding of price trends
- Stay aware of product allocations, pipeline issues, refinery upsets and planned maintenance
- Know industry-wide corporate earnings and learn what the competition's doing
- Track M&A activity to see how the competitive landscape is shifting
