

Buy and Sell Fuel with Confidence

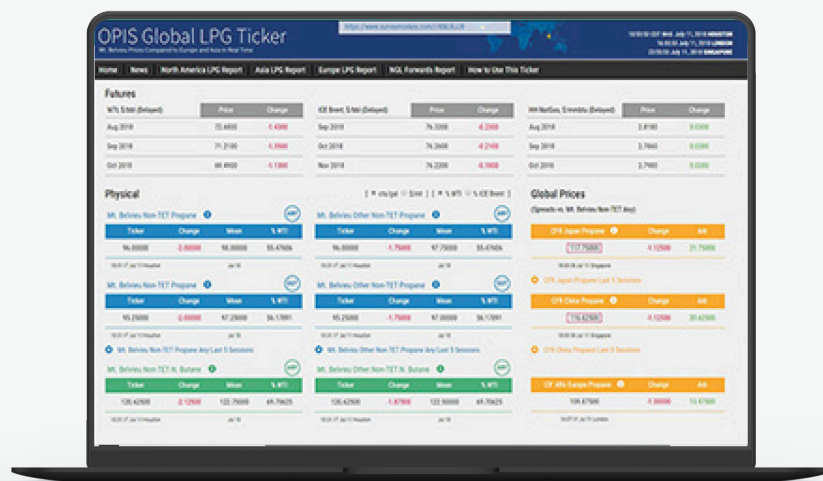

The need for price transparency between Mont Belvieu and the international LPG market is greater than ever.

Mont Belvieu, Texas, is one of the world's most liquid LPG markets. Price fluctuations there exert a major influence on global cargo prices. Here's an example:

To determine if it's cost-effective to import or export LPG products, you need a real-time pricing tool that does the conversion math for you with one click.

The OPIS Global LPG Ticker lets you compare pricing between global markets in Europe and Asia with Mont Belvieu, a key export hub for propane, butane and ethane, where OPIS holds the official pricing benchmark. The ticker expresses value the way the market does — across a full trading day — and removes the effort from manual LPG volume conversions.
